Why Medical Facilities Need Feedback

Medical facilities are constantly battling online reviews. Today's patients would rather complain online before going through the trouble of physically involving a manager. Feedback offers an easy and discreet way for patients to voice their concerns in real-time, in store, and without the need for awkward face-to-face confrontation.

Your patients would like to tell you something
Are You Ready to Listen?

I have not seen my waiter in 15 minutes.

The bathrooms are out of paper towels.

Your new menu is very confusing and the prices are hard to read.

Great job on the table-side Caesar salad.
